Special thanks to our Emcee for the evening, Staci Static

Staci Static has been a bright spot in St. Louis radio for almost 15 years. Since entering the radio game, Staci has always realized the importance of being relatable to all of her listeners. The talented APD/MD Air Personality was recognized as one of the elite Power 30 DJ's in the country by The Source Magazine.

Static always knew she would somehow combine her love of people and music into a career. Staci joined a hip hop music show on community radio station KDHX 88.1 and loved the ability to reach listeners and be a part of the culture. Her stylish flair, quick conversation and knowledge of hip-hop music and culture led to the start of her commercial radio career at KATZ/100.3 The Beat. She was hired on to co-host the morning show and as they say the rest is history.

The savvy business woman and radio power broker manages to do it all. On a daily basis Staci handles APD/MD duties, the wildly popular 9AM-2PM Mid-Day shift and manages the on-air staff. She treasures the time she spends with her two beautiful daughters; Asha and Kylie. In that 24-hour window Staci squeezes in her hobbies; working out, cooking and listening to NPR.

Currently, you can find Staci Static on WFUN, 95.5 for The Lou! Monday through Friday from 9am -2pm.

Welcome To
Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater St. Louis
Annual Recognition Event

Reception
5:30 p.m. – 6:30 p.m.

Awards Program
6:30 p.m. – 8:00 p.m.

Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater St. Louis has always valued the recognition of board, volunteers and staff. Since the inception of the National Awards Program in 1947, Boys & Girls Clubs of America has encouraged Clubs to foster continued support of dedicated volunteers and professionals by recognizing them at annual Club dinners and other special events.

We are proud to recognize our dedicated board volunteers, supporters and staff for their achievements and contributions.

National Service to Youth Award – Board, volunteers and staff who have rendered long and devoted service (five years or more) to the Boys & Girls Club Movement.

National Award of Merit – Individuals and organizations outside Boys & Girls Clubs that have provided outstanding support to local Clubs or the Movement.

Carl Woods Volunteers of the Year – Presented to exceptional volunteers who demonstrate his or her devoted service to the Club's mission.

Richard H. Amberg Award – Presented to a Board member whose leadership and commitment has a profound impact on the Club's ability to achieve its mission.

Capture the Vision Award – Presented to an individual or organization who demonstrates their devoted service to the Club through tireless innovation.

G. Bauman Cabinet of Life Trustees Award – Presented to devoted individuals who have served on the Board of Directors and have completed their Board term, but have a desire to continue to serve in some form or fashion.

Richard H. Amberg Award

Robert “Bob” Fulstone has served as a dedicated member of the Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater St. Louis Board of Directors for over 25 years. A military veteran with a 45 plus year career in radio and television in St. Louis, Chicago, and New York, Bob is a hardworking individual with a passion for giving back to his community.

Previously the Chief Volunteer Officer (CVO) of the Board in 2000 and 2001, Bob oversaw a capital campaign for the Club that secured the first $1 million gift from Dennis & Judy Jones – the largest single gift in the Club’s 38-year history. While CVO, Bob recruited an active and diverse group of Board volunteers, many of which who assumed major leadership roles for BGCSTL. He has also been honored with the Wind Beneath My Wings Award in 1999, the Recognition of Service Award, National Service to Youth Award, Local Service to Youth Award, the Board Challenge Champion, and recognition for marketing excellence by the Boys & Girls Clubs of America.

Bob also chaired the Campaign for Kids annual fund drive and the Resource Development Committee. During this time, the Club had the largest increase in funds raised and more $10,000+ donors for the Jeremiah Millbank Society than ever before. He now serves as the Vice President of the Missouri State Alliance for the Boys & Girls Clubs of Missouri, and makes calls to fund such programs as Meth Smart, SMART Girls, Passport to Manhood, and more. Bob also generously dedicates his time to the Youth of the Year event in Jefferson City, preparing youth to participate in the prestigious program, the highest honor that a Club member can receive.

Bob has also given his time and talents to many organizations in St. Louis, including Missouri Goodwill Industries, the Business Council for the United Nations, Junior Achievement of Mississippi Valley, the Missouri Historical Society, Business Resource Center, and more. He also received a Leadership Award in 2005 from Heat Up St. Louis, as well as an award for Outstanding Board Member from the James S. McDonnell USO for securing funding for the new Mobile USO.

Capture the Vision Award

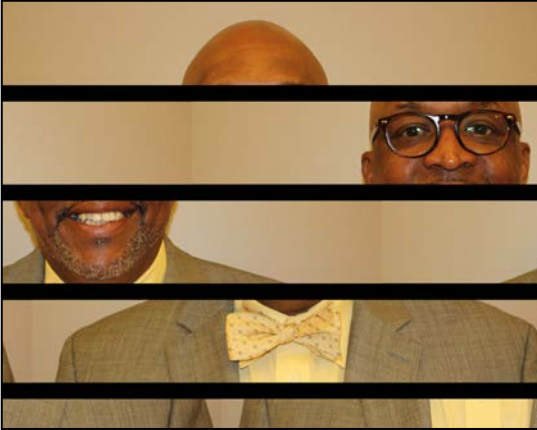

Charles R. Tallman III, has been a tireless advocate for youth in St. Louis, especially ensuring that youth have the resources they need for healthy, productive and successful futures.

As one of the four founding members of PHL, Inc. (a not-for-profit organization to repair, replace, purchase, improve and build athletic facilities and equipment for public school districts in St. Louis), Charlie has built and repaired 10 athletic fields in the City of St. Louis, including the Herbert Hoover Club football field in 2015. For this project, the Rams football team contacted Charlie about helping organize a project to renovate the field at Herbert Hoover and Charlie jumped on the project with both feet. Managing the project from the very beginning, Charlie worked with all the contractors; purchased a new scoreboard and 25-second clocks; added bleachers, a press box, irrigation and fence repairs not originally in the project scope; designed and managed installment of the artificial turf along the field's sidelines; and made sure that six weeks of preparation work would be ready for the Rams to lay sod and complete the renovation of the football field. This large-scale project, along with Charlie's hard work and tireless dedication, was gifted free of charge to the Boys & Girls Club.

In addition to his work with athletic facilities, Charlie has also secured equipment and uniforms for youth sports teams, along with shoes, clothing and more for local youth development and human services non-profits. Nothing PHL, Inc. has done would have been possible without Charlie working tirelessly for nothing more than the love of his community and his desire to make it better.

Alumni Hall of Honor

Lorenzo Baylor, Sr. has worked for Citibank for the past 28 years as a Vice President in the mortgage banking industry responsible for various channels throughout the bank. Lorenzo has received several awards for his outstanding work. He is also one of the founders of the African Heritage network at Citibank. Which helps mentor incoming employees into the bank. Lorenzo is the director of the Willie G. Baylor Sr. Charitable Foundation. This foundation provides college scholarships to high school students. The foundation also provides ACT/SAT prep classes.

Lorenzo is an active member at Faith Miracle Temple where is he an ordained deacon, instructor, men ministry board member and financial counselor. Lorenzo attended Beaumont High School where he was a three sport lettermen in football, baseball and basketball. Upon graduation from Beaumont in 1980, Lorenzo went on to attend Columbia College in Columbia, MO. While in college Lorenzo played baseball for two years. He also became a member of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc. While on campus Lorenzo was the president of the Minority Student Association and served on the student campus government board. Lorenzo graduated from Columbia College in May 1985 with BS degree in Business Administration.

Lorenzo joined Herbert Hoover Boy's Club as a young 7 year old boy in 1968. His time at Herbert Hoover Boy's Club taught him skills he has carried throughout his life. Teamwork and leadership skills were taught by some of the role models who poured into Lorenzo's life like Clarence Pearson, Carl P. Woods and Henry Armstrong. Through Hebert Hoover Boy's Club, Lorenzo was exposed to many things that would not have been possible without these influences. As a kid from the inner city, he traveled to different cities while playing against different cultures. Lorenzo, to this day, always let everyone know that Herbert Hoover Boy's Club helped to shape the successful person he has become. Lorenzo currently resides in Florissant, MO with Sandra, his wife of thirty years.

Grace Conner is the youngest of seven children, three brothers and three sisters. Her father is a bishop, and mother is a pastor in her community. Grace attended Central City Lutheran School and Bridgeway Elementary. She also attended Pattonville Heights Middle School.

Grace became a Club member in 1998 when she was a freshman at Pattonville High School. She decided to go to the Club to volunteer to fulfill her community service requirements for graduation. From then, experiences and opportunities flourished. Grace was later offered a job as a Junior Staff member at the Club. After graduation, Grace attended Southeast Missouri State University. That year she also received a Johnny Londoff Chevrolet scholarship through the Boys & Girls Club to help with college. She returned home and completed her studies (Cum Laude) at Harris Stowe State University and returned to the Club as a staff member.

After graduation, Grace began work as a teacher for Head Start, then Saint Louis Public Schools where she is currently employed. Grace has been teaching for six years. She is also the coordinator for the school's after school program and is pursuing a Master's Degree and Reading Specialist Certification. In addition, Grace is a seasonal staff member at the Club, working each summer for the past four years. Grace is also a proud mother of one. Her son Antonio is ten and has been a Club member since age 6. Grace enjoys being able to provide her son with opportunities and experiences through his Club membership, just as she gained memorable experiences through the Club.

My memories of the Club include: my first time leaving the state without my family, my first plane ride, my first conference, my first job, my first leadership role, my first CPR certification and my first scholarship. The Club always provided the sense of individuality that was hard to come by as the youngest of 7. I gained lifelong skills and friendships with the Club.

Jordan Johnson

At the young age of 24, Jordan “Shorty da Prince” Johnson is definitely not a stranger to the Entertainment world. From music and radio to television, he has shown that he can hold his own. Born and raised in St. Louis, MO, Shorty started a career in radio when he was only 12 years old with his own radio show Saturday mornings from 10AM to Noon. “I was only supposed to be on the air for a month...but I didn’t find that out until about 2 years into doing the show,” said Shorty. When he turned 16, Clear Channel hired him as a full time night jock from 6 to 10PM on the city’s “100.3, The Beat” radio station. Shorty grew up on St. Louis radio going to public high school during the day and being the city’s # 1 radio jock by night. In 2010, Shorty landed a radio gig in Detroit, MI on “Hot 107.5” (Formerly “Hot 102.7”) and from there caught the attention of BET. BET reached out to Shorty to put together a tape because they were in search of new correspondents. “I just came into work about to do my shift and checked my email...the subject said BET and basically they had been following me and wanted me to put together a video and send it back to them,” Shorty explained. After about a year of just doing spot appearances on BET, from hosting the Grammy red carpet to doing BET’s Notarized Countdown, he was selected as one of the hosts for their flagship show, “106 and Park”.

Susan Jones is the manager of Supplier Diversity at EMED Medical Company. In her position she is in charge of developing nationwide relationships across the minority business spectrum as well as creating new business opportunities for the company.

Outside of work Susan takes on various roles. She is a dedicated mother, artist, student, community activist, and President of the St. Louis Elected Board of Education. In her role as President Susan takes a grassroots approach to create positive results for the students and families in St. Louis Public Schools. In 2015 Susan created the Sujo Makeup Artistry Scholarship. As a product of St. Louis Public Schools, local School Board Member, as well as a freelance makeup artist, she has always worked to give back to her community. As a makeup artist she decided to come out with her own makeup brush line that helps to benefit the students in her community. Sujo Makeup Artistry donates 10% of every brush sold to the Sujo Makeup Artistry Scholarship. One scholarship is for prom and the other is for college. Funding of this scholarship goes to four deserving students demonstrating excellence every single year out of St. Louis Public Schools. She works diligently and serves as a strong advocate for education and social justice in her community. She offers her leadership in many capacities that range from participating in community meetings, mentoring, creating clean up days for neighborhoods, getting residents registered to vote, and feeding the homeless. She is a true example of teamwork, faith, leadership, devotion and a community leader with a big heart!

I loved going to Herbert Hoover! It was an experience I looked forward to everyday getting after leaving school! My participation in various programs such as the community music school (St. Louis Symphony partnership), swimming, and tutoring were all very meaningful and helped me to do better academically, ultimately contributing to where I am today.

Jerome Tomlin's passion of mentoring to the young men of today stemmed from various mentors, coaches, and community leaders having such a positive impact on his life. Being an active member of the Club provided him with many fond memories. It would be impossible to list them all. His experience as a lifelong member helped to mold him into the man he is today.

He serves as a Virtual Design Coordinator at Paric Corporations, where he supports Pre-construction logistics planning through (BIM) Building Information Modeling and generating 3D animations. Previously, he worked in various roles where he mentored youth within the St. Louis area as a Youth Specialist for the State of Missouri's Division of Youth Services and as an After-School Coordinator within the Riverview School District. Jerome is a graduate of the University of Arkansas where he obtained a Professional Bachelor's degree in Architecture. Throughout his free time he loves to spend quality time with his beautiful wife and family.

*We live in a world in which it is essential to share responsibility.
It's very easy to say it's not my child, not my world, not my problem, not my community. Then there are those who see the need and respond.*

BGCSTL's "Formula For Impact" is a research-based theory of change that calls for us to consistently provide the most powerful Club Experience possible by implementing the Five Key Elements for Positive Youth Development, offering high-yield activities, providing targeted programs, and encouraging regular attendance – all of which we know help youth achieve priority outcomes: Academic Success, Good Character & Citizenship, and Healthy Lifestyles.

The Taylor Family Character & Leadership Development Programs

Programs in Character and Leadership Development empower youth to support and influence their Club and community, sustain meaningful relationships with others, develop a positive self-image, participate in the democratic process and respect their own and others' cultural identities.

E. Desmond and Mary Ann Lee Education & Career Development Programs

Programs in Education and Career Development enable youth to become proficient in basic educational disciplines, apply learning to everyday situations and embrace technology to achieve success in a career.

Health & Life Skills

Programs in Health and Life Skills develop young people's capacity to engage in positive behaviors that nurture their own well-being, set personal goals and live successfully as self-sufficient adults.

The Arts

Programs in The Arts enable youth to develop their creativity and cultural awareness through knowledge and appreciation of the visual arts, crafts, performing arts and creative writing.

Sports, Fitness & Recreation

Programs in Sports, Fitness and Recreation develop fitness, positive use of leisure time, skills for stress management, appreciation for the environment and social skills.

For 50 years, the Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater St. Louis has been providing after school, summer, teen and sports programs for youth ages 6-18. Our mission is to inspire and enable youth to realize their full potential as productive, responsible and caring citizens. Clubs are open during hours that kids are most likely to need a safe place to go — after school and during summer.
